Alex,
Here are the instructions for completing your work with us. After you successfully complete all of your 'missions', we promise to reunite you two and let you both walk away. Forever. And don't even think about telling anyone about us. You may have fooled the authorities and gotten away with that childish hack of the United Nationalities website (they still can't undo your changes), but we know you were responsible and won't hesitate to turn you in.
Your first mission is to report to work for your new employer as their new junior IT tech support replacement. No need to worry about your previous job responsibilities, we just sent your former employer your letter of resignation.
I suggest you log into your new place of employment immediately in order to keep your part of our arrangement. You'll need to download the access program before you can use it. Just enter 'get axis' from your localhost prompt.
Good luck.
